

Art Crawl Rules and Guidelines

In keeping with the spirit of the festival (creating a platform to aid new artists desiring professional traction in the area and encouraging art collection), we do accept artists of all profession, but require at least 75% of artwork presented during Art Crawl be priced at $350 or less.

In addition, professional artists are highly encouraged to participate to aid in new artists growth and to sell artwork, but will not be eligible for awards. (Professional - defined as one who has an established record showing their work in museums, art centers, major galleries or makes more than 25% of their annual income off the sale of their artwork.)

All applications must be submitted online with 3 images representative of the artwork that will be for sale at Art Crawl. (These images will be used in the jury process for acceptance into Art Crawl.)

Image Requirements:

- .jpg format (no slides or original artwork accepted)
- no identification of the artist in the images
- each image should be of one piece only

Selection:

Art Crawl is a juried art festival. All artwork must be original. Works produced from kits, commercial molds, or copied from posters, commercial photographs, magazines, books, record albums, CD/DVD covers or any copy-write images will be disqualified. It is the responsibility of each artist to use discretion in this regard.

Eligible artists will be chosen by a jury consisting of art professionals and will be based on originality, appearance of artist voice, visual impact, quality and price for inclusion in the festival. Accepted artists will be notified by October 2, 2017.

During the festival, artwork will be judged and the following cash prizes will be awarded to artists recognized as "new".
